Civil Rights Program

Presentations available for your community

- Housing Discrimination: Arizona law makes it an unlawful practice to discriminate in connection with housing because of race, color, religion, sex, national origin, familial status, disability, or ancestry. This presentation gives examples of what can be considered discrimination as well as the persons who could have been doing the discrimination. Also, it gives information about the time period you have in which to file a charge against a housing provider, mortgage company, brokerage service or other individual.
- Employment Discrimination: Arizona law makes it an unlawful employment practice to discriminate because of race, color, religion, sex, age (40 years or older), national origin, or disability. This presentation talks about how long you have to file a charge against an employer, what charges you can file and examples of situations that can be considered discrimination.
- Discrimination in places of public accommodation: Arizona law makes it unlawful for a public accommodation to discriminate because of race, color, religion, national origin, ancestry, sex or disability. This presentation gives examples of places of public accommodation and how to file a charge against a place of public accommodation.
- Voting Discrimination: The Arizona Civil Rights Act makes it unlawful to deny any qualified citizen the right to vote because of race, color, religion, gender, national origin, disability, or ancestry. This presentation gives examples of situations that might come about when a qualified person is trying to vote that is considered discrimination. It also tells you how you can file a complaint and the time line you have in which to do so.
